

Pan Am Movie Set

Here's a great conjunctive set, and it must be fairly hard to get because I don't have a single cover from it! It's a Movies/Foreign/Airlines set. Allenco Match Co. of New Zealand came out with the set in 1976. The Long Beach Matchcover Club bulletin, from which this list is reprinted, reported at the time that the set was created to raise money for a charity in New Zealand.

There are a very respectable 50 covers in the set, and, whereas most of the Pan Am sets which were issued over the years were 30-strikes, this set is all 20-strikes. All have Pan American advertising on the inside and the movie of choice on the outside—although, as a veteran movie watcher all my life, I'd certainly question some of the film choices here! Where's Humphrey Bogart? My all-time favorite early actor isn't represented here, either—Wallace Beery!
