

Budget Rent-A-Car Set

Hardly anyone collects Car Rental Companies per se...a pretty lack luster category overall. But, here are five that may meet with more approval.

First, these Budget Rent-A-Car covers comprise a set, and there are more collectors who collect sets. Second, these all happen to be from Hawaii, so whereas I wouldn't ordinarily be interested in these, myself, they'll make a nice addition to my Hawaiian collection. I had never run across this particular set before, so it was a nice little surprise for me.

These are Universal covers, probably from the mid-1970s. The set is made up of these 5 covers:

- even if you're a Potentate from Patagonia
- even if you're a Matador from Madrid
- even if you own a Bank
- even if you're a Latin from Manhattan
- even if you're a Gypsy Violinist

Ray Vigeant, CT, reported having 35 covers in this category in January 1999, so there are a few people who appreciate them, at least.
