

Now This...Is

Now, you know that someone, somewhere collects Motor Oil covers, perhaps Auto-related collectors. Still, I'll admit that this is probably not one of your more popular categories.

But just look what it has to offer! There are a lot of attractive, colorful covers to be seen here. And, many of the covers pictured here are parts of series, and series always look nice together in your albums.

What about nostalgia? These are products that most of us have grown up with and have probably used at one time or another. I know I've had occasion to use Pennzoil, Mobiloil, and Kendall, among others, over the years. And many of these brands are still in use today.

Note that the first cover pictured here is a DQ, so Motor Oil covers go back at least to the 1930s...That gives us, say, 60-70 years of production to go through. Not bad!
