

Featuring Full-Lengths!

Gum

More gems from the past! As I mentioned last month, the Wrigley's issues dominate the realm of the full-length gum issues, and probably the gum covers in general.

Also, as can be seen from the samples pictured here, Diamond covers seem to be the most common in this category.

There isn't a lot to say about these covers...They are what they are. Since a significant number come from the 1930s, though, you'll find some Worlds' Fair conjunctives here, such as the one to the immediate left.
