The Impact of Gas Prices

Gas prices continue to soar, and that, of course, raises food prices and just about everything else. All of which takes additional dollars right out of our pockets.

That means collectors have to show more ingenuity and creativity in attending club meetings in spite of it all. Well, what can you do?

1) Car pool. There's plenty of time in between meetings to arrange a ride with another collector...and it just gives you more of an opportunity to socialize.

2) Public transportation. While there may be some areas where this isn't a viable option, that's what public transportation is there for, after all. Take advantage of it.
