

EDITORIAL

Canada, Oh, Canada!

Know what the second rarest type of collector is? (We already know that the rarest is the type who LIKES Nationals)...the collector who actually WANTS all those Canadian covers written in French!

Now, be honest, what do you do with all those Canadian covers you can't read? (My French is so rusty I usually start off with, "Yo hablo Espanol"). Most of them aren't even attractive to look at. Most are all text, and the others seem to just have little stick figure drawings. Those that you can actually figure out all seem to be from such widely collected categories as Video Stores, Nuts & Bolts Salons, and Big and Tall Men's Clothing.

I've got stacks of them; I can't get rid of them! My traders don't want them; I can't put them in auction lots; I've even tried slipping them into my trades with Canadian collectors....they don't want them either. All I can do is hope that Quebec succeeds in breaking away from Canada and forming its own country. When that happens, look out! I'm sending them to everyone as FOREIGN covers!