

KNOW YOUR COVERS!

Here's a type of cover that you could easily go through your entire collecting career and never come across. We see Lion's 21 "Feature" covers quite often...but a 33 "Feature"?

This was a Lion 40-strike-sized cover, but it was, as the manumark says, a Feature, and so the matches themselves were wider than normal to accommodate the much sought-after art work. Thus, just as the 30-strike-sized 21 "Feature" only had 21 matches, the 40-strike-sized 33 "Feature" only has 33 matches, although, personally.... I don't believe I've ever actually seen a full-book 33 "Feature". Not surprisingly, I don't have any stats on this type of cover; never heard anyone report their numbers; can't be many of them. I think Lion probably put an emphasis on its Giant Features, instead.
